

Wild Caves
Oshima Brothers

Headed to Ohio on the highway
Dreaming about a bird that flew away
She's ten thousand miles now
But it would take a million more to forget her name

She's been bringing light to Barcelona
Making strangers smile on the train
He's ten thousand miles now
But it would take a million more to forget his name

So far from home
This love ain't heartbreak
Cause love is tidal waves
That make the earthquake

He's been singing songs about her sunshine
Making plans to see her in a week
Days go by in the nick of time
Cause he's going crazy just to hear her speak

She's up early waiting on the airline
Drawing pictures 'til she starts to weep
Hours go by in the nick of time
Cause she's going crazy just to kiss his cheek

You're not alone
Cause love is daybreak
From cliffside hideaways
And secret wild caves

This love ain't heartbreak
Cause love is tidal waves
That make the earthquake
Cause love is daybreak
From cliffside hideaways
And secret wild caves
